

The No Call bill needs to be strengthened, not weakened. There are still too many violators. When I have told telemarketers that we are on the no call list, they have the gaul to continue rambling on about whatever it is they're trying to sell. I consider it an invasion of our privacy.

Thank you,
Gayl Ryan